THE RAILWAY BILL

SENATORS FOR NORTH-WEST

Large Increase in the Dominion Grant to the Territories.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The Grand Trunk Pacific railway bill passed in committee today and stands for its third reading.

A bill to give two more senators to the Northwest Territories passed its third reading.

The finance minister announced that the grant to the Territories this year would be $957,000, besides $84,000 for new bridges across the Belly and Oldman's rivers. Provisions were made for an advance on capital account of $250,000.

GRAIN QUOTATIONS.

Fort William wheat, No. 1 hard, spot 81 cents a bushel.

Winnipeg oats, No. 2 white, 30 cents a bushel.

WHEAT MARKET.

Winnipeg, Sept. 25th.
Wheat prices were weak, but active yesterday.

RETURN TO WORK.

The Morrissey miners have returned to work.

STRIKE IN MINNEAPOLIS.

The Minneapolis strike has involved seventeen mills.

OLD MILITARY BUILDING BURNED.
An historic artillery building was burnt at Kingston, Ontario.

ATTEMPT AT TRAIN ROBBERY FAILED.
Train robbers were foiled on the Oregon railway, near Portland.

STREETS CHARGED WITH ELECTRICITY.
The town of Newmarket is charged with electricity.

EASTERN BANK COMING WEST.
The Eastern Townships Bank of Quebec will establish branches in Manitoba.

PORTAGE CITIZEN SHOT.
C. S. E. Burley, a Portage la Prairie citizen, was accidentally shot while out shooting.

TURNED DOWN THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.
The Labor Congress at Brockville elected officers and turned down the Knights of Labor.

RIFLE SHOOT
Fort Saskatchewan Annual Matches Continue—Bad Weather.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).
Fort Saskatchewan, Sept. 25.—The wind throughout the Association match yesterday afternoon was very changeable, with frequent showers of rain, making good scoring impossible.

In the Association match, ranges 200, 500, and 600 yards, 5 shots each, the score stood: Corp. McEldan, 58; Rgt. d'Easum, 57; J. McKenzie, 52; Mr. Bennett, 51; J. Daniel, 44; J. McEldan, 44; Frank Walker, 43; J. Carmichael, 43.

The Bulletin regrets the condition of its telegraphic service the past week. We have made every effort to get the C. P. R. to have our news sent to today without success. There seems to have been no reason for this carelessness except that the C. P. R. lines are kept very busy with their regular work and the newspapers dependent on the C. P. R. for their telegraphic service, suffer in consequence. It may readily be seen that the C. P. R. has a monopoly of the situation, for if another telegraph line were running into Edmonton it would not date out thus.

Ernest Cachel will be on trial for his life on October 13th or October 20th. The presiding judge will be Chief Justice Sifton. It is just possible that there will be a session of the Supreme Court on time in Calgary on October 13th. If so the hearing of the case will be postponed for another week.

The government crematory at Edmonton has discontinued operations for the present season. As usual it has not been patronized as it might have been. Considering the amount of patronage extended during the last few years, the government deserves great credit for continuing operations until this time.

LOCAL.

The new city policeman, M. M. Brunella, commenced work last night.

The Baptist church will hold an evening service in Robertson hall on Sunday.

A convenient and handsome new workbench has been installed in the Grandview hotel bar this week.

The Western Canada college, Calgary, opened on Wednesday with an attendance of twenty-four pupils.

Two loads of Bishop and Nagle's furs arrived in Edmonton yesterday. Several more will follow in a day or two.

Flags are flying from all the principal stores and business places as a welcome to the Canadian manufacturers.

A new sidewalk is being built on the east side of First street, Hudson Bay Reserve, north and south from Jasper avenue.

Next Sunday will be quarterly review Sunday in the Methodist Sunday school. The superintendent has arranged for a specially interesting service. Parents and friends will be heartily welcomed.

The Saskatoon Phoenix says that a large force of surveyors are at present at work between Yorkton and Saskatoon laying out the Grand Trunk Pacific line.

Owing to the building operations at the Baptist church, there will be no services held in it on Sunday. Arrangements have been made, however, to hold an evening service in Robertson hall.

A number of plank approaches to the sidewalks along Jasper avenue are being removed this week under orders from the city council. It is said that they interfere with the proper draining of the sides of the street.

The commissioner of agriculture has issued a circular to all the patrons of the Northwest Territories creameries, explaining that owing to a misunderstanding between the department of finance and the auditor general, the payments for August have been delayed considerably.

The Canadian manufacturers, one hundred and sixty in number, have arrived in Edmonton just as we go to press. They will visit our different manufacturing establishments this afternoon. A visit to some of our coal mines down the river would be an eye opener to the visitors. They will remain in Edmonton until about ten o'clock this evening, when they will return south.

R. R. McClellan was taken to Wetaskiwin yesterday by the Mounted Police and tried on six charges of forgery and also for robbing a person using violence. He was brought back to Edmonton last night and will be taken to Lacombe in a few days for further trial. The greatest precautions are being taken with McClellan for he has proved himself a slippery individual.

WANTED.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN

The resignation of Mr. Chamberlain from the British cabinet is an event of the highest imperial importance. Mr. Chamberlain has been the strong man of the British cabinet for many years and under the most trying circumstances. He is the one member of that cabinet who has earned and held the full confidence of the people of all parts of the empire in his intellectual ability and energetic loyalty. Under all the circumstances it is more than likely that his resignation is the forerunner of the downfall of the Balfour government. It does not seem likely that this government, deprived of its strongest and most popular member, can survive the revulsion of public opinion against it on account of incompetence displayed in the South African war. Divided in opinion on the fiscal question it is not in a position to take advantage of the new ideas that are beginning to take root in Britain.

Mr. Chamberlain has a definite policy to submit to the people of Great Britain. Whether right or wrong it certainly appeals to the sentiment of imperialism. He is the one man on either side of politics who stands with a clean record for loyalty and ability in connection with the South African war. He is unquestionably far stronger out of the government than in it; and once the government as it now exists is defeated, Mr. Chamberlain naturally and necessarily becomes the leader of the imperialists as opposed to the Little Englanders. Whether at his age this will ultimately place him in the premiership, a position which must necessarily be the summit of his personal ambition, it is impossible to predict. But if he should ever reach that height of place and power it will be one of the most remarkable and best deserved instances of political success which has occurred in the history of Britain. His policy of imperial trade preference is the natural outgrowth of the spirit of imperialism. It is calculated to meet the requirements of sentiment and business, the combination upon which the empire is built. It is, of course, a fact that each quarter of the empire, and each interest in each quarter, furnishes out Chamberlain's policy with such details as will suit each such locality or individual. It may be that when the policy of imperial trade preference comes to be given effect, some of those who are shouting loudest for it now will be its most bitter opponents. The features which they have expected to be modeled in their favor, they may find to be rather to the advantage of some one else. That, however, must be expected, and need not and will not necessarily interfere with the general approval of the general principle.

The idea is new, it is untried; it has hitherto been unheard of. It would not be practical under any other conditions than those prevailing in the British empire. It is impossible to say who or what planted the seed which has grown into this idea. But there is no doubt that the Boer war started it to vigorous life, and that Mr. Chamberlain has watered and tended the plant with the prospect of seeing it grow to a great and sturdy tree.

CONSERVATIVES AND THE TARIFF

The South Alberta nominating convention is to be congratulated on its attitude on the tariff. It has come out squarely for the prohibitive tariff demanded by the manufacturer's association. While it may not be possible to agree with the position taken, it must certainly be acknowledged that it is eminently fair that the party convention should have placed its nominee on record in support of the leading principle of the party policy. It will be fresh in the memories of those who took part in the elections of 1900 that the candidates in the west of the party of protection made their campaign chiefly on the argument that the Liberal tariff was too high, and in fact that on some articles there should be no import duty at all. The result would not prove that they succeeded in misleading any large proportion of the electors, but the attempt was deplorable, and it is highly to the credit of the South Alberta Conservatives that they have decisively dropped any such attempt at double headed politics.

THE AUDITOR GENERAL

In the discussion in parliament on Monday, September 15th, regarding the hold-up of the public funds by the auditor general, Mr. Oliver spoke as follows:

Hansard report, Monday, September 15th:

Mr. FRANK OLIVER (Alberta). It seems to me that this is not a question of taking away powers from the auditor general, but a question of preserving the powers of this House as representing the people of the country. It is altogether a mistaken attitude to suppose that there is any attempt to shear the auditor general of any of his proper powers. But, it is possible and it has been a conviction for a long time that the auditor general, having been clothed with certain powers for certain purposes, has by excessive zeal abused those powers to the detriment of the public interest. It has been a very good thing for the country that the question has been brought home personally to members of the House in a most pointed manner so that they will understand fully how the auditor general from time to time during years past, has prevented the payment of honest money to honest men who have honestly earned it in the service of the government.

FROM OTTAWA

Bulletin Correspondence.

Yesterday was occupied entirely by discussion of the redistribution bill and some further progress was made. It is going very slowly, but there does not appear to be any actual obstruction, such as met the Grand Trunk Pacific bill. The great difficulty appears in dealing with the Ontario constituencies, and this arises chiefly out of the necessary reduction in membership of that province. Besides, the increase of population in New Ontario, as compared with the other settled portions, compels a still further reduction of representation in the older parts of the province. While members of both parties suffer from this reduction, those on the government side make no protest. But members of the opposition whose seats are being wiped out naturally make a strong protest and suggest all kinds of expedients to save themselves; and make all sorts of insinuations as to the reasons for the course taken. As far as matters have gone—and the bulk of the bill has been disposed of—it is evident that there has been full and fair consideration of all sides of the various questions involved; but it is still policy on the part of the opposition to raise the cry of unfairness and to make believe that the redistribution being made is based merely on the desire to give special advantage to Liberal voters. Taking for granted that groups of population retain their political views election after election, as they do to a considerable extent, especially in Ontario, and giving a parliamentary majority the power which it necessarily has, it is quite possible for a measure of redistribution to be very unfair to the political minority. By grouping together any undue number of towns and townships of one political faith it is frequently possible to leave a number of surrounding constituencies with a substantial majority of the opposite political faith. That is to say, by giving the one party, or making one constituency unquestionably Conservative or Liberal, it is possible to give the opposite party at least a fighting chance in four or five constituencies. This is the principal of gerrymandering which was adopted by the Conservative government in 1882 and was enforced in the most scientific manner, without regard to convenience of voters or symmetry of constituencies. To insure a reasonable check on the possibility of this being done at the present redistribution, the principle of observing county boundaries was laid down by the government and agreed to by the opposition. There is, therefore, no question in regard to towns or counties which are entitled to only one member. The only room for difference of opinion is where a quantity of city is entitled to more than one member. Under the redistribution of 1882 county boundaries were absolutely ignored on the plea that it was desirable to give representation according to population without regard to any other consideration. Naturally county boundaries adhered to, representation by population cannot be adhered to so closely as it otherwise might be. This leaves room for all sorts of fantastic comparisons by the opposition, who thereby attempt to establish their point of unfairness against the government. It does not appear, however, that they are likely to catch the public mind with this idea, and indeed the fight by the opposition party in the House is confined to a very few of its members. It is possibly only a coincidence which strange to say, finds approval on both sides of the House, that one or two of the most wearisome of the opposition members are amongst the slain by the provisions of the bill.

SPRUCE GROVE.

The weather of last week was all that could be desired, but this week it is wet again.

The grain is all out and some stacking done. The crops in this district are fine excepting some wheat which was quite green, and last week's rain touched it slightly. Barley and oats have been excellent and when the weather clears up several threshing outfits will be in operation.

Mr. George Buterland has made a good start at his fall ploughing and is doing fine work.

Mr. J. McPherson's large field of fall wheat was a decided success, as it was ripe on the 10th of August, and grows conclusively that fall wheat can be grown successfully in this district. Several large fields have been grown this fall.

Our merchant, Mr. J. Brox and Co., is doing a rushing business, and is scarcely able to cope with the large amount of trade in this place.

Mr. Crisman, of Edmonton, has built a store here and it is now filled with every article a household requires. The store was opened on the 18th with a ball conducted by Mr. Daly, our business hotel keeper. It proved to be a great success, although the early part of the evening looked discouraging. At last the sound of the Stony Plain west bus whistle was heard; at last it drove up to the front door, drawn by four of the finest horses in Alberta. The waiting crowd was not disappointed for about fifteen couples, German, Irish and Scotch, had come to the dance with a good violinist. Dancing began and was kept up all night. Great credit is due Mr. Daly for the able manner in which he conducted the ball.

Our schools are progressing very favorably under the painstaking efforts of Misses Livingstone and Little. Miss Little's success as a teacher was proved at the last examination when all her three pupils passed the public school leaving examination. Each of the scholars was under thirteen years old.

Mr. Geo. Livingstone, of Glasgow, Scotland, has been stationed here for about six months now and is in charge of the Presbyterian mission at this point. This young man is an eloquent preacher and the people are much attached to him. Some Sabbath there is scarcely standing room in the meeting house.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

There was a large attendance at the concert given by Miss Beattie Phillips, assisted by other local talent, in Robertson hall last night. Clarke's orchestra rendered several selections, which were greatly enjoyed. There were long waits between the different numbers, which was very unfortunate. The program was as follows:—

- Part I.
Selection, orchestra.
Song, Happy Days, Miss B. Phillips.
Piano solo, Weber's Concerto, Mr. Beninger.
Song, Alice, Where are Thou I, Mr. Heathcote.
Violin solo, Deuxieme Mazurka, Master R. Porte.
Song, The German Bandman, Mr. G. Phillips.
Song, Sing Me to Sleep, Mrs. Green.
Song, I Think We Shall Have Some Rain, Mr. Horspool.
Part II.
Selection, orchestra.
Song, Mona, Miss Oliver.
Violin solo, The Bohemian Girl, Miss B. Phillips.
Reading, Tu Quoque, Miss Bellamy.
Song, The Holy City, Mr. Gilbert.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN

Items of Interest From a Busy Town.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch.)
Fort Saskatchewan, Sept. 24.—The Fort holds the game and also the Raymer cup. The villagers of Fort Saskatchewan felt very indignant and the excitement was intense here last Friday when it was learned that Red Deer was importing a battery from Calgary to play against our boys for the Raymer cup, which is a beauty, and the championship of Alberta; but the boys were out for a game of ball and had made up their minds to play even if Red Deer imported the Winnipeg Maroons. And play they did with a result of score 18 to 6 in favor of Fort Saskatchewan. When the result of the game was received here, cheers went up and the enthusiasm was grand. We are sorry that Red Deer has taken the result of the game so hard, but if they remember last year, when they had Mr. Butterfield and all their other crack players, what the Fort gave them at Edmonton, after seven innings had been played the score stood 11 to 6 in favor of the Fort team. Red Deer kicked up a row and would not play any more. The referee declared the game and up to Fort Saskatchewan. Red Deer declared the Fort had not won the game squarely. The boys could not stand that and offered to finish the nine innings. Owing to it getting dark at the end of the ninth innings, the score stood 12 to 10 in favor of Red Deer. We know then that we had the best team and all our boys wanted was a little practice, and the result of the game at Red Deer on the 18th confirms your correspondent's opinion. The villagers turned out almost to a man and gave the boys a grand banquet in Langworthy hall on Monday evening, prepared by Mr. Shipley, of the Queens hotel.

Mr. Scott, who is in business in the Barr colony, passed through town this morning on route here.

Mr. W. J. Shera returned last Saturday from a business trip to Winnipeg.

Real estate is still active. Many deals have been put through during the past week.

The Edmonton presbytery has been in session here this week. Quite a large number of delegates from Red Deer and north attended.

Buildings are hard to complete for want of materials. Several new houses are in progress before the season closes.

Mr. Shannon and son, of Collingwood, Ontario, paid the town a visit. Like all new comers they like our beautiful situation.

One of our citizens has been asked to purchase oats here up to the million bushel mark.

D. Trump rejoices in an increase in family as does also Mr. Green, of Green & Fraser.

Twiss Bros' new boat made its first trip to the Fort on Tuesday with building material for Cushing Bros. This boat is a stern wheeler and is running very satisfactorily on the Saskatchewan.

We invite you to examine our stock.

Just a word about Trunks and Valises. We pay particular attention to these goods, and can say as a matter of fact without boasting that our stock is not only the largest but the best assorted in the city. Don't take our word, but come and look around. We have a carload arriving in a few days which will make our stock equal to anything west of Toronto, and that is saying a good deal. Trunks from $1.25 to $40. Valises from 75c to $15, and Suit Cases as high as $35. See our special Ladies' Dress Trunks, nobody else has them. These are all bought direct from the factory and the prices are right.
